Yoga

Yoga is an ancient Indian practice that views the individual as a mere traveller inside a material body.

Modern holistic yoga exercises aim at creating a balance for body, mind and soul. Our classes combine Asanas, phases of deep relaxation, breathing exercises and meditation. The Asanas improve the harmony of body, mind and soul through controlled breathing and concentration, promoting vitality and inner relaxation.

Yoga Pranayama

Pranayama helps achieve harmony of body and mind through breathing exercises. Conscious breathing patterns are applied to substitute normally unconscious ones throughout the exercises. A variety of different techniques work on different muscle groups, mainly the diaphragm, abdomen and pelvic floor in order to control breathing movements. Pranayama heightens the sensibility for breathing processes and helps us consciously experience habitual breathing patterns.

The 5 Tibetan Rites

A combination of 5 movement cycles, the 5 Tibetan Rites are one of the oldest far-eastern methods for relaxation, well-being and fitness and help us regenerate the energy we need for our everyday life by topping up our reservoir of physical and mental strength. The Rites are a good means for finding well-being, vitality and relaxation through daily exercise.

PILATES

A mild, yet highly effective total body training that strengthens the muscular apparatus, primarily the pelvic floor, abdomen and back. Through an ideal combination of stretching, strengthening and breathing, Pilates helps improve posture, coordination and physical and mental well-being.

AQUA - BO

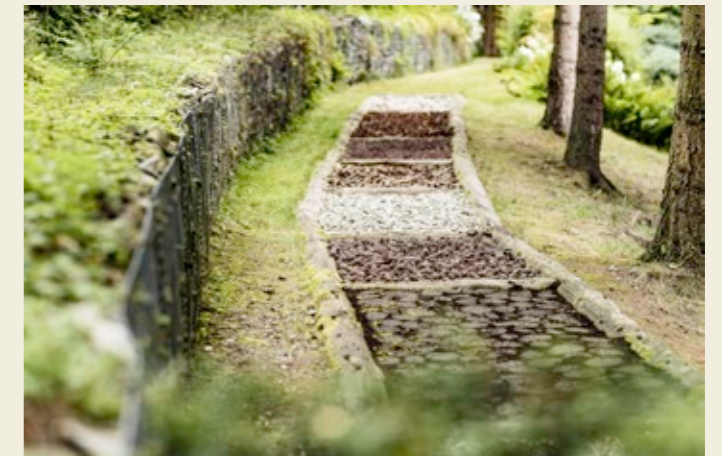

Highly effective total body training in water. Energetic power workouts build stamina and muscle and help reduce fat!

NORDIC WALKING

An endurance sport with two walking poles used to aid the natural walking rhythm and pace. Compared to regular walking, Nordic walking also stimulates the muscular system of the upper torso.

KNEIPP PATH

Different materials promote blood circulation in the feet, boost the immune system and improve the sense of balance.
